New York, June 25 (AP)—The General Federation of Women's Clubs, at its 56th annual convention, today voted down 556 to 341 a resolution approving pending Congressional legislation which would admit 100,000 European displaced persons a year to the United States. The spirited debate period preceding the vote was marked by boos, hisses and loud applause.

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told Congress today that if the United States has another war one of the first things the enemy will do is strike through the air at the industrial centers near the Great Lakes. Add Employes For Battlefield Work Eleven additional summer employes have been added to the regular staff of 10 workmen to handle the busy schedule of tourist-season work on the Gettysburg battlefield, Dr. J. Walter Coleman, park superintendent, said today.

Mowing along the avenues and the painting of signs, tablets and cannon have been underway for some time. The removal of brush and storm-broken trees from various sections of the field also is being conducted. Some avenue surfaces are scheduled for patching.

Contracts soon are to be awarded for the painting of three battlefield observation towers and bids are being asked for the painting of the seven flagpoles in the National park. The bridge over the Western Maryland railroad on Reynolds avenue also is to be painted.

FLOYD MILLER, 21 ADMITS THEFT AT LEGION BUILDING

Borough police culminated an investigation which has been under way for nearly five weeks, with the arrest at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon of Floyd Miller, Jr., 21, 24 Carlisle street, for the theft of $305 from the Albert J. Lentz Post No. 202, American Legion, on May 23.

Miller, charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, signed a plea of guilty this morning to charges of burglary and larceny, and was held for the August term of court. He was remanded to jail.

Borough Police Chief Robert C. Harpster said that Miller confessed that he was at the Legion home on Baltimore street the night of May 22 and hid in a side room until after the place closed at midnight. He then took the money from a metal box in the grill, Harpster said.

Fingerprints Check
Legion authorities reported the theft to police and an investigation was immediately begun. Several leads were traced and other suspects investigated, until a "break" in the case came, pointing to Miller as the culprit.

The money was taken in quarters, dimes and nickels. Police said that $184.35 was recovered under Miller's bed at his home on Carlisle street. Harpster said fingerprints found on the cash box at the Legion matched the prisoner's prints.

Standard Oil Goes Back To Rationing

Chicago, June 25 (AP)—A shortage of gasoline in the face of growing demand today forced Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to allocate its output during June, July and August in 12 of the 15 states it serves, the company announced.

The allocation system, which will amount to approximately a 15 per cent cut in the company's current distribution, is the first consumer restriction of its kind since gasoline rationing ended in August, 1945.

The company said it could deliver supplies this summer approximately equal to those delivered a year ago. However, current demand is about 15 per cent above last year, it added.

The shortage was attributed to inadequate pipeline and refinery capacities rather than any shortage of crude oil.

All in Good Health
An escort will accompany them from New York.

All the youngsters will be in good health, all being compelled to pass a rigid physical examination by competent physicians before leaving New York. Youngsters not in good health are not permitted to leave New York.

The hour of arrival of the bus here with the youngsters will be announced later.

PREPARING FOR HOSPITAL DANCE

Preparations were being completed today for the benefit dance and card party to be held Thursday evening in the auditorium of the Hotel Gettysburg annex for the benefit of the Warner hospital under the sponsorship of the Hospital Auxiliary.

There will be adequate seating space for persons who attend the affair but do not wish to dance or play cards, Mrs. Warren said.

The drawing for the door prizes will take place before intermission. A Harrisburg decorator was here today to convert the auditorium into a "garden" for the function.

Proceeds of the affair will be used in the fund the Auxiliary is devoting to the cost of enlarging and modernizing the hospital kitchen.

Eisenhower Accepts

Gen. Bradley May Succeed Eisenhower As Army Chief

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who led allied armies to victory in North Africa and Europe, will become president of Columbia university when he is relieved as army chief of staff, probably early next year.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, the Veterans Administrator, was regarded today as Eisenhower's likely successor in the army's top job.

Eisenhower also has been elected a member of the university's board of trustees. As president, he succeeded Nicholas Murray Butler, who retired in 1945.

Associates of the five-star general said last night he has discussed his departure from the service with President Truman and Secretary of War Patterson, but without submitting a formal request for release.

A War Department announcement of Eisenhower's plans said, however, that he has taken the Columbia post "with the approval of the President of the United States and Secretary of War" effective "at such time as his superiors may release him from active duty in the army."

The statement added that "with no radical change in the current outlook, it should be sometime during the first half of 1948."

Bradley has long been mentioned as heir apparent if Eisenhower should step out as chief of staff. He directed the Army Ground Forces in the victorious European campaign when Eisenhower was Supreme Commander of the allied armies in that theater.

Eisenhower's prospective retirement from the armed forces continues a parade of top wartime brass into civilian pursuits.

Gen. H. A. (Hap) Arnold, wartime air forces commander, has become a newspaper columnist in California; Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, hero of Bataan, plans to retire soon to head a Texas grocery chain; fleet Admiral William F. Halsey is loafing in retirement in Charlottesville, Va., after writing his memoirs for publication in the Saturday Evening Post.

Lt. Gen. James H. (Jimmy) Doolittle, who led the famous Tokyo B-25 raid, is vice president of the Shell Oil Company; Gen. Brehon Somervell, chief of the army service forces, became president of Kopper's, Inc., a steel company, and former U. S. Steel corporation, reported all its coal mines in Pennsylvania and Kentucky were closed, causing the loss of about 70,000 tons of coal daily. Other steel firms were similarly hit.

Meanwhile, government officials reported the Justice department was investigating the sudden walkout to determine whether an injunction could be slapped on John L. Lewis and his AFL-United Mine Workers.

The Taft-Hartley act which caused the walkouts provides the government may seek an injunction to halt national emergency strikes, but the President would be required to appoint a board of inquiry to report to him first.

Thousands more miners in Pre-Vacation Walkout

Pittsburgh, June 25 (AP)—Thousands more of the nation's coal miners joined pre-vacation walkouts today and the first steel industry curtailments because of the two-day-old fuel stoppage were announced.

Field reports indicated nearly half of the 400,000 bituminous miners were idle. Some miners said they walked out protesting adoption of the Taft-Hartley union-curbing bill, while others said the stoppage was merely a "head start" on vacations which start in the coal pits Friday night.

An attempt by United Mine Workers leaders to start a return to work in West Virginia mines was outdone by new mine closings there. Against 2,000 men returning in Monongalia county, more than 11,500 joined the walkout, raising the state's total of idle to 41,000.

Reports from the coal mines administration and operators listed another 10,000 men idle in western Pennsylvania, raising the total to 51,000 or more than 50 per cent of the soft coal diggers there. In eastern Pennsylvania, the first walkouts occurred in anthracite mines, with more than 3,200 quitting work in the Panther Valley area.

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation announced the shutting down of the equivalent of 4½ blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh district. A two-thirds curtailment of its Bessemer department at Youngstown, Ohio, was also effected, cutting off production of 1,500 tons of steel daily.

The corporation's parent firm, U. S. Steel corporation, reported all its coal mines in Pennsylvania and Kentucky were closed, causing the loss of about 70,000 tons of coal daily. Other steel firms were similarly hit.

Meanwhile, government officials reported the Justice department was investigating the sudden walkout to determine whether an injunction could be slapped on John L. Lewis and his AFL-United Mine Workers.

The Taft-Hartley act which caused the walkouts provides the government may seek an injunction to halt national emergency strikes, but the President would be required to appoint a board of inquiry to report to him first.

Here And There
News Collected At Random

Because of a misunderstanding as to the opening of Hartman's Dam, near Cashtown, for fishing after it had been stocked with trout there was considerable confusion and consternation among Adams county fishermen last week-end.

The initial announcement on Monday that the stream had been stocked also stated that the stream would be open for fishing at midnight Saturday night. The current information should have been that the stream would be open at midnight Friday night.

Some anglers, aware of the correct time, flocked to the stream Friday midnight and netted good hauls. Others who believed that the opening was Saturday midnight were disappointed when they found that the stream had been well "fished" the night before.

The automobile caravan that rolled through Gettysburg this morning was from the Carlisle area en route to Washington. It was made of Townsendsites en route to the capital to press for increased old age pensions.

The fire company expects that net profits will exceed $3,000, he added. No exact figure is possible until after all bills are in and have been paid, and all contributions have been received, he said.

ADAMS COURT WILL APPROVE TRANSFER PLAN

The Adams county court will approve the petition of the county commissioners for the transfer of prisoners from the county jail here to the Dauphin county jail next Saturday, President Judge W. C. Sheely indicated today.

Following conferences between the Adams county commissioners and Dauphin county authorities, including the commissioners, and the State Department of Welfare, the petition was submitted to the court here several days ago. The state and Dauphin county officials already have approved the plans.

Judge Sheely said it must be acted upon by all three judges of the local court, himself, and Associate Judges A. Dale Knouse and J. Price Oyler. This action will be taken Saturday morning, Judge Sheely said. He indicated that the petition for removal of the prisoners would be approved.

Transfer of the prisoners will then be up to the county commissioners, he said. They may be taken to Harrisburg any time after the petition is approved. It is probable that the commissioners will wait until July 1. In case this date is visiting day at the Dauphin county jail, the prisoners will not be moved until the next day, Sheriff J. E. Millhimes said.

The prisoners probably will not be moved all at one time, either, it was indicated today. There were 16 at the jail today. Two are due to be released within the next week, but there was no way of determining what the jail population may be a week from today. Other prisoners may be committed before that time.

MONUMENTAL TASK AHEAD AT CONFERENCE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The proof of the plum duff is in the eating, and therefore we shall be smart if we don't allow ourselves to get exuberantly optimistic because Moscow finally has decided to send Foreign Minister Molotov to Paris to confer with Foreign Ministers Bidault of France and Bevin of Britain regarding the American proposal for the economic rehabilitation of Europe.

Of course it's most gratifying that no less personage than Mr. Molotov is to join the representatives of Europe's other ranking powers in these conversations which may make or break the continent. The outside world looks on Molotov as, next to Premier Stalin, the most powerful figure in Russia.

However, the mere fact that Moscow is participating in this conference, and is sending such a distinguished envoy, doesn't in itself mean one iota more than that the Soviet government is looking the project over. No matter what Russia had in mind, she would be bound to have a representative at this meeting. Then, having examined the situation, she would be in position to adopt any one of three courses—as diplomatic quarters in the western democracies see it—namely:

The Three Courses

(1) Full-hearted participation in the Marshall project with determination to make it work; (2) participation with the idea of scuttling the ship; (3) outright rejection of the proposal with a knowledge that this would further solidify the division of Europe into eastern and western camps.

That's not being cynical but is merely employing horse-sense in these dangerous days when caution is necessary. It's recognizing facts instead of indulging in wishful thinking.

There's a difference, though, between wishful thinking and hope. It is legitimate for us to hope that this reconstruction proposal may break the ice and so at long last permit of cooperation between the Russian bloc and the western allies. Such cooperation may not be probable at this time, but it is possible.

Deeply Suspicious

Mind you, I don't believe Russia has completed her maneuvering for positions of advantage in Europe. The signs are that she intends to consolidate her hold on Hungary, to bring Austria within the Red fold, and to establish her influence over Germany. There is every indication, too, that Moscow hasn't the slightest intention of abandoning its campaign for communization of the world. However, it is possible the Soviet has extended its influence sufficiently so that it now would be willing to cooperate with the western allies—provided it is satisfied that the allies have no designs against it.

That provision is a mighty item. Russia is deeply suspicious of her former allies. She has charged America and Britain with attempting to encircle her. And the western allies on their part have been watching Soviet expansion with suspicion and dismay.

Thus I believe we must arrive at the conclusion that the forthcoming conference of the three European powers in Paris will have to do more than put on paper the ways and means of implementing general Marshall's program for setting Europe on its feet economically. The three distinguished statesmen will be faced with the monumental task of establishing a far greater degree of confidence between east and west than now exists. Unless that is achieved, the Marshall idea cannot be carried out in its fullness.

Fireman Charged With York Blazes

York, Pa., June 25 (AP)—Gerald Eugene Diehl, 26-year-old volunteer fireman, was charged with arson in connection with three fires in the heart of York's business district that caused more than $10,000 damage.

Police Captain Gorman J. Christine quoted Diehl, married and the father of two children, as saying yesterday he started the fires because he craved excitement.

The arson charges accuse Diehl of starting fires which damaged the August M. Schaffer floral shop May 24; Silco drug store, on June 6 and C. M. Klem five and ten store, June 15.

State College, Pa., June 25 (AP)—Teachers often neglect exceptionally bright students, says Dr. Miriam C. Pritchard, head of the department of psychology at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The reason for the neglect," says Dr. Pritchard, "is that the 'bright' youngster learns easily, behaves well and reflects credit upon the teachers."

To Increase Funds For NLRB's New Job

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Senate Republicans today planned a big boost in National Labor Relations Board funds to help administer the new union curb law Congress put on the books over President Truman's veto.

The Senate, following the lead of the House, snatched down the veto yesterday by a vote of 68 to 25, six more than the required two-thirds majority.

The House three days earlier rolled up a crushing 331 to 83 margin to override the Mr. Truman's disapproval of the Taft-Hartley measure—now law.

The act imposes far-reaching limitations on union activities, mainly by overhauling the Wagner collective bargaining act.

Washington, June 25 (AP)—The Veterans Administration said today that almost half a million war veterans are not yet old enough to vote.

A tabulation of World War II veterans by age groups disclosed, the agency said, that 440,000 are less than 21 years of age, and 43,000 are under 20.

FACE TICKLISH DECISION OVER SAGGING CHINA

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, June 25 (AP)—President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall are faced today with a ticklish decision on whether the United States should do anything more right now to prop up China's badly sagging economic structure.

Some top-flight advisors contend the problem is fast becoming as urgent as the issue of aiding Europe. But they acknowledge that neither alternative offers solid ground for determining a positive policy stand. The choice, they say, is between (A) delaying any decision at the risk of seeing China fall prey to even greater disunity, possibly complete Communist domination, or (B) responding to Nanking's pleas for new loans and grants with no positive assurance that the aid measures would be effective for long.

The problem of long-range help to China logically falls within the scope of the new 19-member non partisan committee appointed by Mr. Truman to weigh the effect of all such foreign assistance on the American economy.

But with one deadline falling next Monday midnight—a long-pending but never released export-import bank credit earmarked for China—and with Congress aiming at adjournment by late next month, time is pressing on the administration to make at least a stop-gap decision shortly.

Miss Godden's three messages follow: 1) Life must be accepted on its own terms for we cannot disturb the fundamental nature of things and people without disastrous results; 2) The fascination of the interplay of personality and place on personality, and 3) Life is both precarious and precious with change coming so quickly that commonplace, everyday things take on importance and new meaning.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Detroit, June 25 (AP)—When a golfer can amaze Byron "Mr. Golf" Nelson, he really must be good. And that's just what Jim Ferrier did on more than one occasion yesterday.

When Nelson, who refereed the match, dropped into the press tent afterward—something he never did before his retirement—he was fairly poyeyed over Jim's putting and chip shots. "In 21 years of golf I never saw anyone chip and putt like Ferrier did today," Nelson explained.

SCOOPEROO

A writer following the semi-final matches Monday thought he might overhear something special when he came upon Mr. and Mrs. Chick Harbert standing by a green during the heat of Chick's semi-final match with Vic Ghezzi. "And do you know?" The scribe demanded later. "They were arguing about who they'd hire to put up some screens."

The 1949 championships were awarded to Bethlehem.

FERRIER WINS TITLE IN PGA; BEATS HARBERT

By FRANK KENESSON
Detroit, June 25 (AP)—Tall, stoop-shouldered Jim Ferrier, Australian-born chip and putt master from San Francisco, ruled as the match king of professional golf today after whipping home-bred Melvin (Chick) Harbert, of Northville, Mich., 2 and 1, in the "Battle of Plum Hollow" for the American PGA championship.

Ferrier, who hadn't won a major national championship since he left Australia in 1939 after four triumphs in the Australian amateur and two in the Australian open, zoomed into fourth place in the pros' 1947 money parade by pocketing the $3,000 top prize here for his first tournament victory of the year.

27 Under Par
In running his tournament earnings to $9,669.16 since the first of the year, the gum-chewing, club-wagging Ferrier played approximately 12 rounds in a week over Plum Hollow golf club's long, tricky, 6,922 yard layout at an aggregate of 27 strokes under par for 204 holes.

If anybody ever won a championship with one club Ferrier did it with his putter. He dropped in a 60-foot putt on the 36th green to carry his third round match with Claude Harmon into extra holes, winning on the 37th, and "putted" Harbert right out of the championship in yesterday's final.

Ferrier required just 24 putts for the 35 holes his match with Harbert went, dropping six of them at distances ranging from 15 to 35 feet.

Beaten On Putting
Chick, meanwhile, missed a total of eight putts of seven feet or less in the finals, five of them to win and three to tie, and used 62 putts during the day's doings.

"He really murdered me with that 35-footer on the 23rd hole," Harbert said after the match. "We were all square at the time and I honestly was looking for him to take three to get in when he slapped it into the back of the cup for a deuce. I never could catch him after that."

CARDS STOPPED BY HURLING OF WARREN SPAHN

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitchers Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain of the pennant-starved Boston Braves threatened today to eclipse the modern National league record number of victories hung up by two pitchers of the same club in one season.

With 20 wins already, Spahn and Sain, upon whom Braves followers are depending to bring them their first flag in 33 years, stand a fighting chance to better the mark of 52 garnered by Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer of the 1939 Cincinnati Reds.

Spahn, a 25-year-old sophomore from Buffalo, N. Y., nabbed his 11th triumph against two defeats last night when he pitched the Braves to a 9-6 victory over the climbing Cardinals in St. Louis.

Retain League Lead
Spahn's victory enabled the Braves to retain their one game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the torrid National league pennant race.

The Dodgers nipped the Pirates 4-2 in a night game at Pittsburgh. The New York Giants protected their third place hold against the Cubs by slugging the Bruins 11-0 in a day game in Chicago. The Reds edged up on the fifth place Cardinals by knocking off the Philadelphia Phils 4-2 in a night game at Cincinnati.

In the only American league games, both played at night, the Chicago White Sox made it 10 of 11 with Washington by blanking the Senators 3-0 and the St. Louis Browns clipped the Athletics in Philadelphia 12-3.

Rain washed out the scheduled night games between Detroit and the Red Sox at Boston and Cleveland and the Yankees at New York.

Babe Ruth Back In Hospital Again

New York, June 25 (AP)—Babe Ruth is back in the hospital on the advice of his physicians for further treatment and "to take things easy for a few weeks."

"I even get tired taking a walk around the living room," the Babe was quoted by friends as saying as he entered the hospital yesterday. "I can't seem to gain any strength," he said, "so I guess I'll just get some rest here."

Dempsey Observes

His 52nd Birthday

Los Angeles, June 25 (AP)—Ten thousand fight fans sang "happy birthday to you" to ex-heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey at the Olympic auditorium last night.

Dempsey, blushing and obviously flustered at the booming chorus, was presented by Al Johnson.

Johnson announced that it was Jack's 37th birthday. Dempsey retorted that he was only 32.

In reality it was the old champ's 52nd birthday, and a cake with lighted candles was presented in the ring.

Favorites Win In

Grass Court Play

Philadelphia, June 25 (AP)—Play in the second annual middle states professional championship grass court tennis tournament entered the second round today with all favorites still in the running.

Fred Perry, Miami, Fla., had to come from behind to beat Al Doyle, Palm Beach, Fla., 6-7, 6-1, 8-6.

William Croshy, Los Angeles, eliminated Harold Duncan, Hobe Sound, Fla., 6-2, 6-1, in another first round match.

OPERATION ON DOYLE FOLLOWS ROBINSON'S KO

By LARRY SMITH

Cleveland, June 25 (AP)—Jimmy Doyle of Los Angeles, who was knocked out last night in an attempt to wrest the welterweight championship from Ray (Sugar) Robinson, was operated upon at Charity hospital early today by Dr. Spencer Braden, noted Cleveland specialist.

Hospital attendants said his condition remained critical. They did not disclose what type of operation was performed upon Doyle, but Dr. Braden previously had said the injury might possibly be a blood clot on the brain.

The stricken fighter was still unconscious and had received the last rites of the Catholic church.

Doyle was carried from the arena ring on a stretcher and rushed to the hospital after being floored by a left hook in the eighth round of a scheduled 15-round championship bout before 11,275 which paid a gross gate of $79,340.

Knocked Unconscious

After Robinson delivered the blow, Doyle fell flat on his back, unconscious. Referee Jackie Davis started the count but the bell ending the round sounded when Davis's roll reached nine.

Dr. Arthur Hagedorn, Cleveland boxing commission physician, and Doyle's handlers were unable to revive him.

It was the second time that Doyle had been carried from the local ring and taken to a hospital. He suffered a brain concussion March 11 a year ago when middleweight Artie Levine came from behind to belt Jimmy to the canvas. On the way down, Doyle struck his head on a ring buckle and was out of action for nine months. He started

Baseball Voting To Go 1,500,000

Chicago, June 25 (AP)—The fans' votes for the starting lineups in the major league all-star game at Wrigley field July 8 surpassed the million and a quarter mark today with Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees maintaining the individual vote-getting lead.

Latest tabulation showed a total of 1,274,694 ballots. The million and a half mark was expected to be reached easily before the poll closes at midnight tomorrow.

DiMaggio's total was boosted to 537,244. The Yankee center fielder was followed by Enos Slaughter, the St. Louis Cardinals' heavy-hitting left fielder, with 526,412. Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox left fielder, was third with 514,826; Lou Boudreau, manager-shortstop of the Cleveland Indians held fourth with 506,498 and Johnny Mize, the New York Giants' first baseman was fifth with 491,528.

Today's Talk

A CONSUMING PURPOSE

No one with a consuming purpose can say that there is nothing to live for. In all the many confusing and puzzling events of life there are always openings, brightening vistas, and embers of hope, awaiting the one determined to prove himself as worthy of life and all its ever increasing opportunities for service and happiness.

There are always abundant forces at work to aid the inquiring and the courageous. All of us are venturers, but our compass is faith. First, faith in ourselves, and then faith in our fellows. And each supported by our faith in an existing God over all, of whom it is written, even the fall of a sparrow is noticed.

By this consuming purpose do we find ourselves, and learn to distribute our interests, making them one with the many, for none of us can live to himself alone. We must embrace life—learn the human touch, and become one with the beauties and forces of Nature—and to Earth, our mother, as Michael Fairless has so beautifully written.

How can anyone aimlessly look at life, or dismiss its splendors? All about us are aids, suggestions, and examples, placed for our edification and profit. One of our great inheri-tances is our power of choice. Each of us can be selective. Upon our decisions rests our degree of success or happiness. We can be as rich as we choose! Not materially, merely, but spiritually.

One of America's great engineers once told me that he owed his remarkable success to the fact that he wanted it so much that "it hurt"— and so he forged ahead, with a consuming purpose that gave him his heart's desire.

All of our great scientists, artists, writers, industrialists, can well say that what has driven them to achievement has been this one consuming purpose that was ever kept alive within them. And one thing that keeps it alive is enthusiasm—enthusiasm afire! Few things are ever achieved without it.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Growing Pains."

WARNING

"Let lie the sleeping dog," they say,
And here's a warning added to it:
Let still the silent grandpa stay,
For if you rouse him you may rue it.

His boasting nature never jar,
Though curiosity impel you.
Don't ask him how the children are,
Or he will take an hour to tell you.

Once roused, of them he'll start to brag
In speech that's like a river flowing,
And from his pocket he will drag
New pictures he'll insist on showing.

He'll hold you by your coat lapel
Till all your charms he has imparted.
There's far too much he wants to tell When once you get a grandpa started.

Canning Season Calls For Shelves

The home canning season will soon be at hand and before that time arrives the efficient homemaker will see to it that there is plenty of storage space for the fruits and vegetables she puts up.
Shelves can be easily built at extremely low cost in odd corners of the basement or under stair ways.
They should be located, however, in as cool a spot as possible and should be of sturdy construction because canned goods are quite heavy. Main framing members should be two by sixes and the shelf supports at least two by fours. If the shelf span is more than three feet, each shelf should have additional bracing.

Two or three sheets of plywood or other building board should be used to enclose the shelving, both to hide the cans and to keep out dust.

52-20 MEMBERS DROP SHARPLY

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—Membership in Pennsylvania's 52-20 Club, so popular among World War II veterans a year ago, is now in the process of rapid depletion.

The state reported only 86,000 veterans are today receiving unemployment compensation payments of $20 a week for 52 weeks, compared to 700,000 who have filed for benefits since the GI Bill of Rights became law September 4, 1944.

Benefits have dropped sharply in the past few months due to veterans finding jobs or exhausting the 52 weeks of payments, said a spokesman for the state Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation.

The highwater mark was reached in June, 1946, when $18,954,000 was paid to 247,000 ex-GIs, compared to the present $7,270,000 for 86,000 veterans—a 60 per cent drop in a year.

Millions Paid Out
More than $245,000,000 has been paid out under the 52-20 program since it started nearly three years ago, the entire sum subsidized from the U. S. Veterans Administration.

The full 52 weeks of allowances have been drawn by 50,000 ex-servicemen, but the remainder of Pennsylvania's 1,314,000 World War II veterans have until January 1, 1952
—five years after President Truman announced the official termination of hostilities—to claim benefits.

New claims also have fallen off considerably, the bureau reported, with only 7,000 last month in comparison to the peak of 33,000 for June last year.

COOL HOMES IN SUMMER WITH EASY METHODS

The homemakers' annual struggle to keep their houses comfortable through the summer is approaching rapidly. Within another month, most American families will begin to spend sleepless nights and stifling daytime hours as summer reaches its full status.

But there is still time to do something about it and there are many steps which can be taken to provide summer comfort without a great deal of expense.

Stop Heat Penetration

The first move is to apply a four-inch layer of insulation above the top floor ceiling and to fill the walls with insulating material. This will make the house as much as 15 degrees cooler on hottest days because it retards heat penetration through walls and roof.

The average house can be completely insulated in less than two days by blowing fireproof mineral wool into the walls and other inaccessible space and applying batts of the material in areas where space will accommodate a workman.
Cost of this material is no greater than before the war and usually pays for itself in fuel savings within three heating seasons according to the Construction Research Bureau of New York, clearing house for building information.

Other Measures

If windows are opened during the night so cool air can fill the house and then kept closed throughout the day, the insulation will help retain much of the coolness so admitted. Shades should be kept drawn and attics cross-ventilated.

On hottest days, additional coolness can be provided by an electric fan circulating air across a large bowl of ice. Dampened sheets hung in occupied rooms with a fan directed toward them also are used with success.

The kitchen is the source of a great deal of unnecessary heat.
Ovens of most modern stoves are well insulated with mineral wool so they do not heat up the kitchen, but there is no way to control the heat generated by top-of-the-stove cooking. Hence, hot weather meals should be planned with minimum preparation on top of the stove.

Doors leading from the kitchen to living quarters should be kept closed when the stove is being used, and electric lights used sparingly.

Pays To Inspect Lots Carefully

A vacant plot is not always a bargain, particularly if located in an area that is fairly well built up. In such cases there is usually a reason it is vacant. Hence the prospective buyer should examine the land closely because a high growth of weeds may hide a lot of faults.

It is wise to walk across it in several directions and note whether it will need an undue amount of filling. Residents of the neighborhood should be queried as to whether water stands on the plot and whether they had excavation difficulties.
Solid rock often underlies an area, making excavation extremely costly.

A few holes made with a post hole digger at various points in the plot will reveal whether it has been filled with garbage or rubbish. And don't overlook topsoil. This is expensive to have brought to the building site.

Australia has more than 60 kinds of toads and frogs.

Helpful Tips For Home Builders

CAN TRANSFORM HOMES EASILY BY PAINTING

There are few things a home owner can do to his house which give such quick and satisfying results as painting. In addition to the protection it affords against rust and decay, paint properly applied can work a complete transformation in any home.

Particularly is this true since paint-making and its application has become an exact science. In fact, paint is often used as an adjunct to the architecture of the home, or to correct minor architectural faults in old houses.

Color Treatment

It has been found that warm colors tend to make an object appear larger, while cool colors give a sense of smaller size.

For example, too-large dormers can be made to appear smaller by painting them a dark green so they blend with the roof and then painting the window sash white. Or a house that is tall and narrow can be tied closer to the ground by painting the first and second stories in contrasting colors and accenting any horizontal lines.

Dry Surface Needed

Summer is an ideal time to apply paint either inside or outside because moisture is not so likely to develop on surfaces as at other times of the year. Moisture is one of the principal causes of paint failures. Even the finest paint will prove unsatisfactory unless applied on a completely dry surface. One should never paint during humid or foggy weather, nor immediately after a shower. Because of heavy summer dew frequently encountered, it is wise to do no painting until the morning sun has dried all surfaces.

CHECK ON ZONING

It is important to check all zoning restrictions before building or buying a home. One often finds that no additions to the house are permitted.

FIX LOOSE BRICKS

Loose bricks in porch steps can lead to expensive damage suits. Be sure they are cemented firmly in place.

About 40 per cent of U. S. communities do not have building codes.

Timely And Modern Suggestions Presented By Builders And Contractors

VALID PROPERTY TITLE REQUIRED IN REALTY DEAL

Few buyers of homes or other real estate realize the importance of having a clear, marketable title to the property which they purchase, according to the experience of mortgage lenders.

Most buyers know that a valid deed must be obtained, but this is only part of the procedure in acquiring real estate. The deed is merely legal evidence of the transaction between seller and buyer and does not necessarily mean that the seller had full legal rights to convey the property. The title must show the seller has these rights.

Heirs Can Sue
Failure to obtain clear title has often proved disastrous for purchasers. Heirs of early owners can and sometimes do sue for and obtain possession.

Any one of three methods is used to determine title. One is title insurance, widely used on the East and West coasts, abstracts of title in the Middle West, and the "Torrens System" used in a few states where the state itself issues the title.

Protection Possible
Both abstracts of title and title insurance involve a complete search of the history of the property from earliest times. Hidden defects in titles, such as forgeries of early deeds, or other flaws often appear. Frequently the chains of title involve examination of hundreds of documents.

To protect the real estate buyer, abstracting firms and title insurance companies came into being many years ago. Now, for a reasonable fee, they will guarantee title or insure the buyer against costs which may arise in obtaining clear ownership.

LAWN REQUIRES SPECIAL CARE

That lawn which looks so bright and green today is likely to develop a bad case of anemia unless it is cared for constantly during the hot months to come.

Perhaps more lawns are damaged by mowing too closely than by any other item of treatment. All the benefits of spring seeding and fertilizing can be easily nullified if the grass is clipped too short. The average lawn should never be cut shorter than one and one half inches—two inches is better—because extremely short grass has a tendency to die out.

Water and lots of it is another treatment which lawns require constantly. An ordinary sprinkling is not enough. The turf must be saturated so the moisture soaks well down to the root structure at least every other day during the hottest, driest months.

As a result of chemical discoveries made during the war, there is no longer any excuse to have a lawn full of weeds. There are any number of preparations on the market that will kill weeds without damage to grass.

New buildings at Sydney, Australia, are limited to 150 feet in height.

A HOME TO LIVE IN

Design D-18 is a story and one-half house with two bedrooms and bath on the first floor and space for two bedrooms and bath on the second floor.

The second floor could be left unfinished for the present with plumbing and heating facilities provided for future hookup.

A large living room is L-shaped to provide for a dining alcove and this provides additional light and cross ventilation. The kitchen also provides dining space, and is designed in the efficient U-shape. All rooms have generous wardrobe space. There are coat closets at both entrances and a large linen closet.

The exterior is of siding and the projecting portion is brick-veneered. The entrance door is protected by a small porch with trellis for vines and a flower box. The dimensions are 35 feet wide by 28 feet deep.

For further information address the Home Building Editor of The Gettysburg Times or Standard Homes Service, St. Cloud, Minnesota.

BASEMENT IS COOL RETREAT

Fortunate indeed is the family which has a basement finished off as a recreation room because it makes an ideal retreat from summer heat. Many families, virtually live in their basements during the hot months.

It has been only within recent years that much attention has been given to making full use of this one-third of the house. But with the development of a wide variety of first-class wall and floor finishes there is no reason that this space cannot be turned into one of the most desirable parts of the home.

The problem of dampness, so prevalent in many basements, has been solved through development of several waterproofing preparations that can be applied to walls and floor just like paint.

The trend toward oil and gas heat, with the accompanying elimination of dirt, also has given heavy impetus to remodeling.

One thing should be kept in mind, however, when finishing a basement. This is to use as much bright color as possible.

LOWER RATES SOUGHT

A movement has been started recently to obtain lower fire insurance premium rates for structures which are insulated with naturally non-combustible material.

The dippers of power shovels are often made of aluminum.

BREEZEWAY IS WIDELY USED

The breeze way has come into wide use among architects and home builders recently.

This covered passage connecting the house and garage provides a cool, breezy living porch opening onto the front lawn and rear yard. The idea is a development of an old New England custom of connecting the house and barn by a shelter for protection against bitter winter weather.

Helps Appearance

Modern designers have discovered that the harsh lines of a box-like house can be softened and interesting masses added to the residence by a breeze way. The area can be left open throughout the year or screened in summer and enclosed by glass during the winter.

Even if the garage is located at the rear of the lot, a breeze way can be provided by moving the garage alongside the house and connecting the two structures.

Idea Is Flexible

Many owners of older houses have done this and found that the move added greatly to their summer comfort and at the same time made an out-dated house appear quite modern.

U. S. SPENDING IN EUROPE IS HUGE PROBLEM

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Ever since the so-called end of the late war the people of this country, uncomfortably mindful of Uncle Sam's terrific expenditure in money and resources, have been worrying quietly over whether his further adventures in aiding foreign nations have been justified by his remaining wealth.

The estimated cost of the conflict to America was some $330,000,000,000—a staggering figure which represents almost half the total expended by all the allies combined.

Of even greater concern was the heavy drain on our national resources like petroleum and iron. The average citizen has had no gauge by which to judge just what this means to America's economy. He has been wondering whether we have been going beyond our means—whether we have by any chance been endangering our position as the world's leading power. His concern wasn't lessened some ten days ago when both former President Hoover and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan warned that the time had come for an accounting.

Called "Over-Exporting"

Vandenberg called for the creation of a council of Democrats and Republicans to study the problem of how far the U.S.A. could go in rescuing the war-torn countries. The senator declared bluntly that "If America ever sags, the world's hopes sag with her." Hoover asserted that the U. S. was "over-exporting" its resources and that she couldn't continue her present rate of gifts and loans "without further evil consequences to our stability."

Now comes President Truman's move in creating three committees of experts to determine the extent to which the United States may "safely and wisely plan" to aid foreign countries. The chief executive took cognizance of the fact that this is "a matter of grave concern to every American."

So in due course we shall hear the

Traffic Deaths Reveal Decrease

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—Traffic accidents resulted in death for 110 pedestrians on Pennsylvania's rural highways during the first five months of 1947, as compared with 136 deaths for the same period in 1946.

Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, in announcing the deaths said "while the figures continue to show a decrease over last year, we must remember that traffic will increase, bringing additional hazards."

specialists' verdict on our economic status. And presumably our policy of foreign aid will be made to fit this verdict—a seven league stride in the right direction.

U. S. Obligations

Still, with all that, there will remain a correlated question which a lot of folk are going to want answered. That is, just what are America's obligations, assuming that she is financially able to continue aid?

U. S. Assistant Secretary of State Willard Thorp recently stated that this country already had spent about $9,000,000,000 in an effort to bring about European recovery and that about $4,000,000,000 more had been made available. And Benjamin V. Cohen, state department counselor said that from $15,000,000,000 to $24,000,000,000 would be needed from America and other countries during the next three or four years to prevent starvation and the "danger of dictatorship."

NEW TAX MOVE GAINS SUPPORT OF SEN. GEORGE

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) threw his support today behind a Republican move to re-pass the vetoed $4,000,000,000 tax slashing bill, revised only to make the cuts effective next January 1 instead of next week.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the tax-framing House Ways and Means committee reintroduced the bill yesterday, and Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said it will be taken up by the House "at the first favorable opportunity."

Asked if this meant action before Congress adjourns in July, Martin replied: "We certainly are not closing the door to that." He added: "Since the tax veto was sustained last Tuesday a lot of Democrats who voted to sustain have come to me and said they were sorry—that they have changed their minds. We are sure we have the two-thirds in the House. It's entirely up to the Senate."

"Can't Be Done"

"The Republicans say they will bring the bill up if they are sure of the two-thirds votes in the House and Senate to override another veto."

Crops Doing Well Report Discloses

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—With the return of dry weather to most parts of the state the state agriculture department said that stands of corn were generally good, that wheat was coloring in southern counties and the condition of the state's oat crop continued to improve.

The Federal-State crop report disclosed that potato planting is well advanced in northern tier counties and early planted tobacco is growing nicely in the state's tobacco belt.

It can't be done—in the House or Senate."

An informal poll was underway among Senators to determine whether enough support could be corralled.

George, Senate tax manager when the Democrats controlled Congress, told reporters he would support the new bill if it comes up "with much more confidence than the previous bill." The Georgian voted for the previous legislation but said he would support the President's veto if it came to a test in the Senate.

The House, however, upheld the veto by a two-vote margin, 268 to 137.

George observed that with the changed effective date "possibly" enough Democrats might back the new bill to pass it over a veto. However, seasoned lawmakers saw little chance of the measure becoming law this year.

SHIPBUILDERS NEAR STRIKE

New York, June 25 (AP)—A final bargaining session was called today which, if no agreement is reached, may add 1,500 employees of the Atlantic Basin Iron Works in Brooklyn to the 40,000 employees of nine Bethlehem shipyards planning to strike at 12:02 a.m. tomorrow.

Charles Leone, regional director of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America (CIO), who had announced a break-off of negotiations with Bethlehem yesterday, said he did not expect a last-minute agreement with Atlantic.

"Nothing will move in the Bethlehem yards after 12:01 a.m. Thursday, and probably not in the Atlantic Basin Iron Works' yard either," Leone said. "With the arrival of the July 1 deadline, work in all East and Gulf Coast yards will stop, too."

A Bethlehem spokesman said the negotiations had not been broken off officially. Leone said the company made no offers and union negotiators had nothing left to do but "get up and walk out" yesterday.

CHILD KILLED IN FALL
Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 25 (AP)—Four-year-old Bernard Bardell of Wilkes-Barre township plunged to his death over a 115-foot precipice at an abandoned mine stripping. State police said the youngster was playing with friends atop the cliff a short distance from his home.

Chapter 33

"Okay, then," said Rush. "You'd better forget about killing me and start running. If you kill me it's going to be quite obvious that it was murder."

Pedrick smiled.

"No, Rush. I'm going to knock you out and leave you over the balcony. I'll say you jumped."

"How are you going to get close enough to knock me out?" asked Rush.

Again Pedrick grinned.

"I don't have to. Kit will take care of that. Now, Kit," he said.

Rush whirled. He caught a flash of white, a blur of motion then something exploded below his ear and he fell like a log. He lay very still on the thick pile rug.

"Is he out?" asked Pedrick.

"I think so. Oh, Matt. I'm scared."

"Don't be. I have everything figured out. Here, give me his hand. I want his fingerprints on this gun. I'm going to say he held the gun until he jumped so we couldn't stop him."

Pedrick knelt beside Rush and picked up a limp hand. He fitted the butt of the gun in Rush's palm and forced the fingers around it. The trigger finger he pushed through the guard. Then he started to push it back. It wouldn't push. The other fingers tightened around the butt.

"Thanks, Matt," said Rush. He sat up with the gun trained on Pedrick. With his free hand he massaged the bump swelling below his left ear. "That's the trouble with amateurs. They always slip on the simplest things. I doubt if it ever comes up again, Matt, but if it does, don't even give a second's warning."

"When you said 'now, Kit' you gave me enough warning to let me fall with the blow. I admit I could have fallen the wrong way and really caught it but I didn't and all Kit did was graze me. Now, you walk over to that wall and stand facing it with your hands high and flat against the wall. You too, Kit."

Pedrick looked at him strangely.

"You know, Rush. I'm almost glad. Those other guys were fun, but I don't think I'd have enjoyed killing you. I can't remember having liked a man as a man since my father died. But I liked you."

"Thank you, Matt," said Rush. "I liked you, too. I wish you'd told me what you really wanted. I could have gotten you your town and you wouldn't have had to kill anybody. You'd have had to run it by my rules, but it would have been your town. Now, go over to the wall like a good boy. I have to make a call."

"No, Rush," said Matt Pedrick. "I like my prescription for you."

He turned and walked straight to the double doors behind his desk. He opened them and stepped out on to the balcony. Kit screamed.

"Aren't you going to stop him?"

"No," said Rush. "I'm not going to stop him."

"Thanks, Rush," said Pedrick. "Buy the boys in the back room one for me."

He turned and vaulted the railing without a backward glance.

The drink was tall. It was very dark, the davenport was softness itself and there wasn't a sound in the room. It was exactly ten o'clock. The silence lasted as long as the tall, dark drink. Ten minutes. Gay poured another. Still the silence.

Finally.

"You're almost unbelievable, Gay."

I've been here twenty minutes and you haven't asked a single question.

"I'm not going to. You're here and you're all in one piece. That means two things. That it's all over and that you're all in one piece. What more could a girl ask?"

"Don't you even want to know who did what to who and why?"

"No."

Rush came up from his almost prone position and looked at her.

"You don't?"

"No. I already know. I know that you must have caught Matt Pedrick and Kit English."

The jaw drop this time was a full inch. Rush was speechless. Gay smiled at him.

"It's partly a hunch. The other part is that so many things happened to you that shouldn't have happened unless somebody knew what you were up to. The only people who knew were Bill Prime, your boys, Matt Pedrick and me. I counted Bill Prime, your boys and myself out and that left Matt. I had it figured out a week ago but I didn't want to say anything. I know how men are about women."

Rush gazed at her in wonder.

"You," he said, "are wonderful. I only had one thing that you didn't. Kit came to my hotel room and tried to bribe me for some mysterious gun. He wanted to pay me fifteen thousand dollars to get out of town, so she said. I'm pretty sure she also left the poison that killed Duffy."

"So that's what she wanted."

"Huh?" It was all Rush could think of to say.

"I was standing outside the balcony door when she invited herself to your room!"

He looked at her across the length of the davenport. He stubbed out his cigarette. Then he looked again at Gay.

"Come here," he said.

THREE DIE AS

BUS HITS AUTO

Langhorne, Pa., June 25 (AP)—Three persons were killed and three others injured in the collision of an automobile and a Greyhound bus last night on route one South of Langhorne.

The dead—all passengers of the automobile, were identified by state police as Louis L. Mongillo, Sr., 47; his son, Patrick J. Mongillo, 23, and Earl Roberts, 30, all of South Langhorne, Pa.

State Police Corporal R. D. Evans quoted the bus driver as saying he swerved to avoid hitting a car which crossed in front of him and crashed head-on into another automobile.

One passenger in the auto and four in the bus, including Mrs. John Low, 60, Tampa, Fla., and Moss Gregory, 36, Newark, N. J., were injured.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

North Truro, Mass., June 25 (AP)—After 54 years of married life, John E. Rogers, 77, and his wife, Ellen, 80, died in each other's arms yesterday of heart attacks. Dr. Daniel H. Heibel said Mrs. Rogers suffered the first attack and shock caused the husband to collapse seconds later.

It was her 80th birthday.

AUSTRIA AGREES NOT TO DIVERT

U. S. SUPPLIES

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Austria formally agreed today that under pain of losing all help no American relief supplies will be diverted to Russian or any other occupation troops.

This stipulation, plus a guarantee that the Austrian people will be clearly told whence the aid came, was written into the first of a series of agreements under which the United States will spend $300,000,000 to furnish food and other relief supplies to China and a half dozen European countries.

The agreement, signed today in Vienna and made public here and in the Austrian capital, also contains a pledge that full publicity will be permitted on the use of the supplies.

Loading One Ship

State department officials said that two or three ships loaded with food, clothing, medical supplies and other "basic essentials of life" will sail from American ports before the end of June. One already is being loaded.

Under the agreement Austria promises to produce as much as possible of the relief items it needs in order to reduce to the greatest extent possible its requirements from the United States.

The supplies it does receive are to be "marked, stamped, branded, or labeled in a conspicuous place in such a manner as to indicate to the ultimate consumer that such supplies or articles have been furnished by the United States for relief assistance."

When proper labeling is not possible, then the Austrian government agrees to take "all practicable steps" to inform the people that the assistance they receive is coming from the United States.

Hotelman Convicted Of Shooting Wife

Allentown, Pa., June 25 (AP)—A Lehigh county criminal court jury convicted Ferdinand Lokits, Cementon hotelman, of second degree murder in the fatal shooting of his wife.

Judge John H. Diefenderfer deferred sentencing last night pending action upon defense motions for a new trial.

Mrs. Julia Lokits was fatally shot April 6 in a room at the Cementon hotel operated by her husband.

Prisoners Deny Jail Break Guilt

Scranton, Pa., June 25 (AP)—Four Lackawanna county inmates, accused of planning a jail break, pleaded innocent yesterday when arraigned on charges of conspiracy and attempted prison break.

A fifth prisoner, William Madis, 27, of Bayonne, N. J., pleaded guilty to the charges.

Pleading innocent were John Gilmer, 28, Scranton; Frank Netters, 48, Oswego, N. Y.; John Delitka, 34, Carbondale, Pa., and Edward Wodakowski, 32, Throop, Pa.

Washington, June 25 (AP)—Prices of all living essentials except rent declined 3 of one per cent between mid-April and mid-May for the first drop since June, 1942, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said today. Food prices were off 2 of one per cent and rents rose the same figure.

Mt. Alto Sanatorium Gets New Director

Harrisburg, June 25 (AP)—The State Health Department has announced the appointment effective August 1, of Dr. Henry C. Dooling, a retired army general, as medical director of the Mount Alto State Tuberculosis Sanatorium.

Dr. Dooling formerly practiced medicine in Norwood, Delaware county, and later entered the Army medical service. Now on terminal leave, he had been chief of the medical and surgical service in the office of the Army's Surgeon General.

He succeeds Dr. C. C. Custer in the post, which pays $3,250, plus maintenance, annually.

Kingston Has Lead In North Atlantic

(By The Associated Press)
Kingston tightened its grip on first place in the North Atlantic League by edging second-place Stroudsburg, 5-3, last night.

In the only other game played, Carbondale whipped Peckskill, 4-3, by scoring four times in the seventh inning. Contests between Nyack-Mahano City and Bloomingdale-Nazareth were postponed due to rain.

Continue To Hold Sweeney In Death

Bridgeton, N.J., June 25 (AP)—Kenneth Sweeney, 48-year-old Philadelphia heating engineer, began his fifth day in jail today while authorities of four New Jersey counties waited the results of an autopsy to determine when and where 32-year-old model Matilda (Martha) Edelman died last week.

Cumberland county prosecutor George H. Stanger said the time element would enable authorities to reconstruct where Miss Edelman died along the route taken by Sweeney as he drove her from Asbury park to a sanatorium for alcoholics near here.

Stanger said the present investigation was centered in Cumberland county since the model's death was discovered in that area but the actual place of her death would determine under whose jurisdiction the case actually belonged.

Tommy Encinas halted a four-run outburst by the Niagara Falls Frontiers in the first inning and then went on to pitch the Uniontown Coal Barons to a 9-6 victory.

The Youngstown Colts defeated the Vandergrift Pioneers in a free-hitting game, 12-10.
